IpX Welcomes Brandy Taylor as Director of Program Management

DENVER, Colorado, 21 August 2019 — The Institute for Process Excellence (IpX) is pleased to announce that as of August 19, 2019, Brandy Taylor has joined as Director of Program Management.

Brandy brings over 18 years of experience in engineering and project management within the aerospace, civil, military and automotive industries. Prior to joining IpX, Brandy managed many new product development projects and also implemented a change management team and competency. Brandy has instituted change management processes globally and improved phase gate style development standards. She brings experience in project engineering, design engineering, quality engineering, program management and change management. Brandy holds a bachelor's and master's degree in Aerospace Engineering, and a CM2-Comprehensive certification. Please help us welcome her to the IpX family.
